We are delighted to announce the latest LFF breakfast seminar, which is being held to raise awareness in the important topical area of open source evidence and the Dark Web.

The seminar is kindly being hosted by DUFF & PHELPS

London
SE1 9SG

Seminar outline

The seminar will provide valuable insights into how anti-fraud practitioners can exploit the opportunities available from Open Source Intelligence (OSINT). The speakers will also delve into areas such as the Dark Web: it is increasingly being recognised that organised criminal networks market malicious software such as ransomware and other illicit goods and services on the Dark Web for financial gain.

Some of the key issues that will be covered at the seminar include:

- What is the Dark Web and what does it look like?
- What is ransomware?
- Who do criminal networks target?
- What is OSINT?
- How can I use OSINT as evidence?

A panel of expert speakers:

- James Weare, Vice President – Global Data Risk, DUFF & PHELPS
- James Morgan, Territory Account Executive, eSentire
- Ray Massie, Operations Director, First Response

will share their valuable experience and knowledge and help you to a greater understanding of the opportunities available to you to find intelligence and evidence on the Internet (both surface and hidden!) - and, crucially, what to do to protect yourself and your business from criminal attack.

The programme for the seminar is as follows:

08.00 Registration and refreshments

08.45 Chairman's welcome

08.50 Speakers' presentations

10.20 Chairman's closing remarks

10.30 Close

To book your place at the breakfast seminar simply email judith@conference-network.co.uk. Numbers are limited at the venue, so please book your place as soon as possible!

Confirmations will be sent by email.

Attendance is FREE for LFF members. If you are unable to attend yourself, it is of course fine for a colleague to come along in your place: please just let me have a name and email address.

For anyone who is not currently an LFF member a fee of £50 + VAT is payable, and this fee will then provide LFF membership and free entrance to all additional breakfast seminars until the end of the membership year (ie to end-September 2017). If you would like to register another member of your team as an LFF member please let me know, and I will arrange an invoice.

We very much hope to see as many LFF members (both current and new!) at the seminar as possible, as it's a great opportunity both to learn about the latest developments in this area and how they affect you - and also, of course, to network over bacon sandwiches!

We look forward to seeing you on the 20th June!
